Creative Passion at Work
2018 Fall Photography Project

I want to add an example of a dynamic portrait of an artist or crafts person doing what that person does best - create, that I can use on my web site..

To do this, I need to collaborate with a creative artist / crafts person in the Elora-Guelph-Wellington County area.

I will produce a photo-essay showing you creating a piece of work, in whatever media you work. The idea is to get to know you and your creative process well enough to capture a series of images that show how you go about creating a piece. See https://digitaleye.photo/dynamic_portraits/ for some examples.

To do that, we need to do the following together.

1. You need to agree to participate. That means signing a model release so that I can work with the images I produce and put them together as a photo essay. I will add music, unless you have music you prefer that works with the images. You must own the rights to this music, and give me the right to use it. The images will feature you as you create, as well as images of your final piece. I will ask you for input during this creative process, but the final photo essay will be my work.
2. You need to let me visit you in your studio or in the place you create. I will need to come and to “watch” you for a bit, so that I can figure out how to best photograph you as you work. I will need to plan the sequence of shots and the lighting that I need to use to best capture you and your work in progress.
3. We will need to plan and to do the photography session together. Again, I will have to come to your studio while you work. This time, I might ask you to vary your normal flow of work from time to time so that I can capture images which work for the purposes of the photo essay I will be creating.

4. I will show you the images that result and ask you for your input on which you like best. I use your input as I select the final images to include in the photo essay. I need to make these final choices, just as you make the final artistic choices when you create.
5. I will feature the final photo essays on my web site, as well as a “short story about who you are and what you create’. I will show a draft of this story to you and get your input on it before the final version goes up on my web site.
6. You will be able to link your own web site to my web site. I will include links to your web site in this story about you.
7. I will provide you with a copy of the final photo essay in mp4 format, as well as low resolution digital copies of some of the images suitable for use on your own web sites. All I ask is that you credit me as the photographer when you use those images. We can also talk about creating high resolution prints if you are interested, but there will be a cost involved. I use GTA Imaging for print work.

Please give me a call or send me an email if you are intrigued, and let’s talk. I can’t guarantee that everyone who is interested in participating will be included.

The idea is to create something visually intriguing together, that celebrates your creativity as a local artist.
