CHILDREN'S ARTS FESTIVAL

St George's Square, 10am - 5pm

Downtown Guelph will be alive with music, colour and crafts at this year's Art on the Street. The Children's Arts Festival collective will inspire creativity in St George's Square with a full day of interactive programs, all set within a space that will be designed with your child's inner artist in mind. The festival aims to enable children to discover, enjoy and celebrate the arts - as audience, learners and as creators of their own art.

The Play with Clay craft bus will be on site, as will the Guelph Public Library and Guelph School of Art, each offering an engaging activity for your family to enjoy.

From the stage in the main square we will see all sorts of entertainment provided by the Children's Art Factory. The fun gets turned on it's head as the kids are invited to do the face painting for themselves, sing their hearts out on the elaborately decorated stage, or use their imaginations and play dress up.

Look up!

Public Art on Quebec Street

The work of painter Frances Hahn hangs from the streetlights on Quebec Street. Called Stack of Smalls, 36 portraits painted on small wooden blocks highlight members of our community and make for a colourful open air art gallery.

Also, Guelph's newest and largest public art installation now appears on the upper wall of The Bookshelf on Quebec Street. Measuring 10 feet high and 60 feet long, this giant drawing was created by internationally renowned cartoonist and designer, Seth.
